and Conditions / Instructions

Must-Consider Points Before Placing an Order:
The following points may appear detailed, but they are designed to ensure smooth execution, timely delivery, and complete clarity — eliminating back-and-forth communication between the publication, our team, agency partners, and end clients.
Orders, once placed, cannot be cancelled or rejected. All payments must be made in advance. Pricing is quoted in USDT. If payment is made via bank transfer, an additional 7.5% will be added to the listed price.
One hyperlink is allowed per article and may direct to a project website, company website, or social media profile. One image is allowed per article, which must be in landscape orientation. Portrait images will not be accepted. The image must not contain logos, thumbnails, web banners, homepage creatives, or any promotional branding.
Sub-headings or sub-titles are not guaranteed. If included and not approved by the editor, they may be removed without prior notice. Byline or author name is also not guaranteed. Publications may choose to publish under their editorial team name, consider the suggested name, or omit it entirely. Such decisions are at the sole discretion of the publication and may occur without notification. The inclusion of personal or company names in the article title is not guaranteed. Efforts will be Published articles cannot be revised in any manner. Content in the form of thought leadership, editorials, interviews, Q&A, opinion pieces, or personal branding is not accepted under standard terms. Some publications may consider such content at a different rate with separate terms and conditions, based on case-by-case
Articles must not be structured around or contain titles that reflect the "6W1H" approach — what, where, when, why, who, whom, or how. Press releases involving partnerships, funding, MoUs, and similar announcements must be supported by formal documentation. Any article claiming guaranteed income, trading/project-based returns, or any self-declared millionaire, multi-millionaire, or billionaire status must also be backed by verifiable, formal evidence. Without this, content
Pricing for industries such as Web3 (crypto, blockchain, NFTs, etc.) and real estate (interior design, architecture, construction, proptech, real estate marketing, etc.) is different from standard sectors. Web3 content must be supported by
With the exception of payment terms, most guidelines apply to Grade A+ and Grade A publications. Grade C publications are more flexible and carry fewer editorial restrictions. We are not responsible for content published on Grade C category publications, as they are merely websites not approved by any competent media authority, and they may directly approach
